

DigiFT COOKIE POLICY

Version Date: December 1, 2021

Introduction

We are DigiFT Tech Singapore Pte. Ltd. (referred to as the “Exchange”, “we”, “us” or “our”).

Our cookie policy (“Cookie Policy”) explains how and why we use cookies on our websites.

By continuing to use our website and/or mobile application without changing your settings, you consent to our use of cookies as set out in this Cookie Policy. If you do not agree to our use of cookies as set out in this Cookie Policy, you should disable or delete the cookies associated with the websites and/or mobile application by changing the setting on the web browser on your device accordingly.

We may from time to time amend the Cookie Policy. Such changes will be published here and effective upon publication. Please check the Cookie Policy regularly for updated information/version. Your continued access and/or use of our website, our mobile application, our products and/or our services will constitute your agreement to the revised Cookie Policy.

Cookies

Cookies are small files which are stored on your hard drive by your internet browser software while you are browsing.

How we use cookies

We use cookies to:

- (a) manage the signing up process and general administration when you create an account with us;
- (b) remember your user details for future correspondence when you submit data through a form;
- (c) remember your preferences when viewing our websites or using our mobile application;
- (d) to remember when you are logged in to your account, which prevents you from having to log in every single time you visit a new page;
- (e) ensure that your payment or purchase orders are remembered between pages so that we can process them properly;
- (f) record and store your acceptance of our terms of services (including our Privacy Policy and the Cookie Policy);
- (g) collect statistical information about users of our websites or mobile application (for example, time spent on each page and which links our users choose to click); and
- (h) [from time to time when we offer surveys and questionnaires to understand our user base more accurately, such surveys and questionnaires may use cookies to remember who has already taken part in a survey to provide you with accurate results after you change pages].

While we do not allow embedding of marketing cookies onto our website or platform by third parties, there may still be instances where third party cookies are used to track and gather information about your browsing activities and preferences, such as through internet browsers and device-specific mechanisms. Where third party marketing cookies are used in such manner, please note that we do not have access to, nor control over these third parties' use of cookies or other tracking technologies or the content of their advertisements. User caution and discretion is advised.

Disabling cookies

You can prevent the setting of cookies by adjusting the settings on your browser.

Please note however that disabling cookies will typically result in disabling certain functionalities and features of this site or the mobile application. For example, we will not be able to know that you have opted out of targeted advertising on our website or mobile application, recognise that you have agreed to the Privacy Policy and Cookie Policy, or remember your preferences.
